NEAR EAST RELIEF ENDORSEMENT.

The East Pennsylvania Conference of the United Brethren in Christ, held at Penbrook, Harrisburg, Pa., September 28, 1923, recognizes the immediate and compelling need in the Near East which has been increased and multiplied by the continuous expulsion of Christians from Asia Minor.

We appreciate the value of the International reconstruction program of the Near East Relief which it is carrying on both in its ministry of relief and in the excellent work of its orphanages, where the children are being educated in a Christian atmosphere and trained in self-support to become the nucleus of the New Near East Relief.

We approve the cooperation that our churches, Bible Schools and various organizations and officials have given this organization, which is finely representative of the churches of America and its interdenominational aspects, and we urge our people to continue their support, cooperating with Near East Relief in its regular campaigns.

Resolved that the support of the Near East Relief be continued, and

That we suggest to all Churches and Sunday Schools to cooperate with Near East Relief in its regular campaigns.

A tender memorial service was conducted under the direction of H. J. Behney: Memoirs of ministers who entered into rest during the year were read as follows:

On the Life and Labors of C. E. Boughter by C. A. Mutch.

CHARLES EDWIN BOUGHTER.

The Reverend Charles Edwin Boughter was born in Lebanon county, February 10, 1868, and was the son of John and Leah Boughter. He died on the fourth day of December, 1922, having attained the age of 54 years, 9 months and 24 days. Since last summer he suffered periodic attacks of illness and for some time was unable to attend to his ministerial duties, but towards the close of the conference year he seemed to rally and was able to attend the sessions of the annual conference at Sunbury and discharge his duties as secretary. This he did with such efficiency and dispatch that the minutes were in the hands of the printers a few days after conference had adjourned. However, soon after his return to his parish, his condition became more serious. On Monday, November the 27th, he was taken to the Reading Hospital where, upon examination, a major operation was found to be imperative. Great hopes were entertained for his recovery, but at 1:45 in the morning of December the 4th, "he was not, for God took him."

Previous to his entry into the ministry he taught in the public schools for a period of seven years.

He was united in marriage to Miss Clara Fritz. To this union four children were born: Ezekiel Kephart, a member of the Lansdale High School faculty, Luke and Russell and Dorothy, of Reading, the latter is a teacher in the schools of Reading.

After the usual probationary period required of quarterly conference preachers, he was granted annual conference license at the twenty-second annual session of the East German conference held at Myerstown, September, 1891, Bishop E. B. Kephart presiding. Three years later he was ordained an elder in Salem United Brethren Church, Lebanon, Pa., by Bishop J. W. Hott. From the time of his reception into the conference he took a keen interest in all matters, material and spiritual, which necessarily present themselves to the representatives of the churches for their deliberation and approval. He seldom took part in publicly discussing plans or methods of procedure, but when he did take part his views were expressed clearly and with correct logic. He had a keen, analytic mind. As a thinker he had few superiors.

In private conversation as in public discourse he was scrupulously exact in the choice of words that should clearly and forcefully convey the meaning of his thought to others. It was owing to this mental characteristic that we account for his deliberation in public discourse. His habits of thoughts were such, that for him it was impossible to content himself by skimming over the surface of things and to accept and to teach that which was merely plausible. Our sainted brother was a student. A student of nature, a student of men, a student of the Word of God. He was never happier than when in his study, absorbing the thoughts of his favorite authors, and then after passing these thoughts through the alembic of his own mind, passed them on for the enrichment of others.

The ability to state facts clearly and in the fewest words soon came to be recognized by his brethren. In 1898, just seven years after having been granted license to preach the Gospel, he was elected recording secretary of the East German conference, and for twenty-four consecutive years he served the conference with painstaking care, either as assistant or secretary-in-chief. He was treasurer of the conference Y. P. S. C. E. for about fourteen years.

He served the following charges: Montana mission, now Aristes, two years; Shamokin circuit two years; Susquehanna circuit, now part of Allegheny conference, one year; Cressona three years; West Lebanon two years; Intercourse two years; Ephrata seven years; Oberlin five years; Harrisburg First church one year; Reading Zion four years; Lykens two years and three months.

Our sainted brother was a kind husband, an indulgent father, a faithful friend, a thoughtful preacher, a good man. He was not understood by many people, and as a consequence he suffered. The welfare of those to whom he was sent to minister was ever his aim; he did not seek their applause. The writer never knew him to "trim" in order to gain favor. He had convictions, the courage to express them and stand by them. Like most good men he had his detractors, but a man's enemies are often the best testimonials of his worth.

His resignation to the will of God was complete. Knowing the seriousness of the ordeal through which he must pass, he spoke of it with perfect calmness. After the operation and after he had regained consciousness he said to an intimate friend standing at his bedside: "When the anaesthetic was given me I soon felt myself slipping away and then suddenly there was oblivion. A few hours of my life have passed of which I have no knowledge and then when I opened my eyes I saw you at my side. But what must it be when we come to die and find ourselves slipping away from earth, a moment of oblivion, and then to look in the face of Jesus!"

On the morning of his translation, his wife standing at his right side and the daughter at his left, each holding a hand in theirs, in a loud voice and with strong emotion he exclaimed: "Blessed be God, blessed be God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ who gave Himself for us that whosoever believeth on Him should never perish, but have everlasting life." Then after a brief interval he repeated these words: "Nothing, nothing, nothing but God." In a few brief moments his spirit left its tenement of clay and he was with the Immortals! That was a sacred hour. That little room, to the silent weepers, became the ante-chamber of heaven. We did not bid him good-bye; we simply bade him good-night, for soon it shall be a glad good-morning. We shall sadly miss him at our gatherings and in our councils; there is a vacancy in our ranks which for some of us cannot be filled, but we bid our grief-stricken hearts be still.

Our brother in the ministry and the companion of our boyhood days has fought a good fight, he has finished his course, he has kept the faith. "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth; Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them."

C. A. MUTCH.

On the Life and Labors of B. B. Weidman by M. H. Miller. They appear below:

Benneville B. Weidman was born October 5, 1833 and died October 31, 1922, aged 89 years, 1 month and 26 days. His death was a triumph, for he had fought a good fight. He was a true friend to his pastor, loyal to his church, devoted to his family, and honored by all in his home community.

He was never happier than when the church prospered. In his younger days he was a good German preacher, and always responded willingly when called on to preach. He was ordained an elder in 1881.

God granted him a long life and, like Paul, a glorious end. "He being dead yet speaketh" and "His children rise up and call him blessed."

M. H. MILLER.

Beautiful tributes were also paid to Thomas G. Spangler, long and faithful secretary of the Conference Missionary and Church Extension Society, by B. F. Daugherty; to Mrs. Clara Harp Brane by H. F. Rhoad; to Mrs. S. M. Hummel, by A. S. Lehman; and to Mrs. Emma Elizabeth Nye by C. H. Holzinger.

Following these tender services Bishop Bell offered a touching prayer and the Conference sang, "There's a Land That is Fairer Than Day."

S. S. Hough, General Secretary of the Board of Administration addressed the Conference.

The minutes of this day's session of the Conference were approved by motion.

The Conference adjourned upon motion. The benediction was pronounced by President G. D. Gossard of Lebanon Valley College.

REPORTS

REPORT No. 1.

CONFERENCE SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Bishop and Members of the One Hundred and Twenty-Fourth Session of East Pennsylvania Annual Conference, Greeting—

Dear Brethren:—It affords me great pleasure to present to you my sixth annual report.

We are living in a great and auspicious age, an age of marvelous achievements, unique discoveries and unheard of inventions. Opportunities such as the world never dreamed of before are looking us in the face, which if disregarded may never pass by again. Therefore it behooves the Church to take advantage of the occasion and do good unto all men because the time is short.

It is a great privilege to be a man, a blessed privilege to be a Christian gentleman, and a unique privilege to be a winner of souls.

The noblest, the most sacred and exalted of all vocations is the Gospel ministry. It is a distinguished privilege to be called of God to be a co-laborer with Jesus in the construction of His Church and in the edification of the saints.

We are living in a confused age, perplexing problems face the minister of the Gospel from every side, therefore it behooves the man of God to preach an unadulterated Gospel, proclaim Jesus the Son of God, and salvation via the cross as not only important but vital and indispensable.

An age when it behooves the pastor to seek the unsaved and carry the Gospel to the homes, the workshop and places of business as well as to herald the effectual message from the pulpit.

A strenuous age; demands are made upon the ministry and Christian laity as never before, because the fields are already white for the harvest, and we need consecrated laborers, adequate funds and full equipment to take advantage of these glorious opportunities as they present themselves for development.

An age of wealth and fast living, children are brought up in the Sunday schools and for some reason or other slip through our hands and are lost to the church and to God.

Seemingly we do not know how to draw the net, or it may be the meshes are too large, or we do not fish on the right side of the ship.

Large amounts of moneys are being exchanged and people in the church should be admonished that man and all that he possesseth belongs unto the Lord, that man is simply a steward, a worker together with Christ to bring about the greatest achievements for the welfare of humanity, the uplifting of the fallen, the saving of the unsaved, the edifying of the saints for the betterment of the world and the glory of Christ.

Our departments are suffering for want of adequate funds, our educational institutions must be more liberally endowed and the indebtedness cancelled.

A full budget should be the slogan of every preacher and delegate as well as of every member of the church and thus assist to promote the general interests of our beloved Zion.

These are some of the problems which bear our careful consideration and thoughtful reflection.

Deaths.

Soon after the last session of annual conference we were called to pay the last tribute of respect to our beloved and efficient secretary, Rev. C. E. Boughter who was called somewhat unexpectedly to his final reward.

Brother Boughter died December 4. The conference superintendent had charge of the services in Zion Church, Reading, December 7.

Rev. R. S. Heberlig was appointed to fill the vacancy.

Rev. C. A. Mutch will read the memoir.

Rev. B. B. Weidman one of the aged and retired ministers, died at his home at Sinking Springs, October 31, aged 89 years. Brother Weidman died in the faith, happy in the Lord and was awaiting the welcome summon, "Come Home."

Rev. M. H. Miller will read the memoir.

Thomas G. Spangler, Secretary of the Conference Home Missionary and Church Extension Society, died very suddenly and unexpectedly on December 30. The funeral services were in charge of the Conference Superintendent; his pastor, Dr. H. E. Miller, preached the sermon. Brother Spangler was a conscientious Christian gentleman, active in the service of the Lord until called to his final reward. Rev. B. F. Daugherty will read the memoir.

Mrs. Clara Harp, widow of the late Dr. C. I. B. Brane, was called very suddenly to her final reward on January 27. Dr. A. B. Statton, superintendent of the Pennsylvania Conference, had charge of the funeral services. Sister Brane was a consecrated woman and devoted worker in the church. Rev. H. F. Rhoad will read the memoir.

Mrs. Emma Elizabeth Nye died April 8. The Conference Superintendent had charge of the funeral services. Sister Nye was a conscientious Christian lady, a devoted pastor's wife, and willing worker in the Church. Her life was dedicated to the Lord. She died in the faith, and is not, because the Lord took her. Rev. C. H. Holzinger will read the memoir.

Mrs. S. M. Hummel, widow of the late Solomon Hummel, died March 6, happy in the Lord. Rev. A. L. Lehman will read the memoir.

The following appointments were left to be supplied at the last session of annual conference:

Hillsdale, Lykens Valley Circuit and Rocherty.

Rev. Lester Leech, a student, was appointed to Hillsdale, Rev. William Sowers also a student was appointed to Rocherty, and Lykens Valley Circuit was served by Rev. O. L. Mease and Rev. S. T. Dundore.

I am happy to report that all the pastors took charge of their respective fields of work as appointed and we believe did excellent work.

Resignations.

Rev. A. J. D. Shoemaker of Pequea charge, handed in his resignation August 27. Said resignation was duly accepted, and it being so close to conference, no appointment was made to the charge.

Building Funds.

The people have visions, and effect plans for the future as never before, new church enterprises are gleaming in the minds of the people. The King's business, the expending of God's money, the building of churches and parsonages should be done considerately, thoughtfully and prayerfully.

Christ, the founder of the Christian Church, and unto whose honor the Church is being built and dedicated, should be a silent partner and at all times considered a member of the building committee.

In order to avoid a large and depressing debt, a number of congregations initiated building funds. This is the proper thing to do, and we would advise all congregations who think of building in the future to agitate a building fund and thus work toward the soliciting of money, the contriving of wise plans so that when the time of the erection of a church or parsonage is appropriate, sufficient funds will be available to at least place the roof on the new proposed building.

The Following Churches Have Building Funds.

Elizabethtown, $1,048; Campbelltown, $130; Columbia, $2,213; Elizabethville, $642; Harrisburg Otterbein, $11,695; Highspire, $3,200; Hershey, $9,600; Hummelstown, $1,700; Lancaster Covenant, $102,705; Lancaster Otterbein, $25,225; Millersburg, $11,000; Paradise, $674; Reading Trinity, $1,500; Schuylkill Haven, 4,028; Shamokin First, $10,288; Steelton, $961; Union 752; West Willow, $145.

New Church and Parsonage Enterprises.

I am exceedingly happy to report that the Church and Conference is awakening to the fact that in order to expect a twentieth century congregation, wide awake and progressive in industry, business and education, we must have twentieth century churches, churches that are fully equipped with the latest improvements for the spiritual development and moral efficiency of the congregation, as well as for the community.

East Pennsylvania Conference is awakening to the fact and the result is that churches are being constructed that will be an honor as well as a credit to the conference and the denomination for years to come, and our children and children's children will pronounce us blessed for the constructive and permanent work effected in the erection of church buildings that will compete with other denominations for equipment, efficiency, permanency and service.

The new church at New Holland, Rev. C. R. Longenecker pastor, was dedicated Sunday, June 24, by Bishop William M. Bell, D.D. The conference superintendent was present at the morning services, it being his first appearance in public, since leaving the hospital, and therefore took no active part except in the opening prayer. The total cost of this handsome building was $61,000; of which to date, $30,000, has been paid and the balance provided. The new edifice is 103 feet long and fifty feet wide, and is built of brown sand stone and brick which gives it a massive appearance. It is one of the most beautiful and modern churches in Lancaster County and especially so of the denomination.

The new church at Cleona, Rev. S. P. Weaver, pastor, was dedicated by the conference superintendent, Rev. S. C. Enck, D.D., Sunday, July 29. The building is modern in design and cost $30,000; $12,000 was raised on or before day of dedication, the balance was provided.

Penbrook—Rev. H. E. Schaeffer pastor. This beautiful church where the annual conference is now in session, was dedicated Sunday, September 9. The conference superintendent, Rev. S. C. Enck, preached the opening sermon to a large and responsive audience. Dr. W. R. Funk of Dayton, Ohio, dedicated the church in the afternoon and also preached in the evening. This building cost $135,000; $50,000 of which was paid before the day of dedication, another $50,000 was paid and pledged on day of dedication. The building is constructed of Vermont Gray Ashler marble. The interior finish is all of solid oak. This is the most beautiful and best equipped church in the conference, and has but few if any superiors in the denomination.

State Street Harrisburg—Rev. H. F. Rhoad, pastor. The corner-stone for this new church edifice was laid Sunday, October 15, by Bishop Wm. M. Bell, D.D. The finished church will cost approximately $100,000; the construction is of native limestone. This building will be ready for dedication early in the year 1924.

The new church at 29th and Derry Streets, Harrisburg, under the fostering care of Derry Street church, Rev. J. A. Lyter, D.D., pastor, is in course of construction. The corner-stone was laid August 26, by Rev. J. A. Lyter, D.D. This building will cost approximately $30,000; and will be ready for dedication early in the year 1924.

The new and modern Conference Superintendent's parsonage, Corner 16th and Primrose Streets, Harrisburg, will be ready for occupancy early in the month of November. This is a great asset to the conference, not only a convenience but a necessity and will permanently locate the superintendent at the hub of the conference and only two squares from the Bishop's residence.

Cressona—Rev. H. F. Boeshore, pastor. A new and up-to-date parsonage is in the course of erection at a cost of approximately $10,000. The building is located on the opposite corner from the present church; is modern in every respect and will be ready for dedication by November.

Reading Salem—Rev. C. A. Mutch, pastor; purchased a new and modern parsonage, beautifully located on Tenth Street. It is a three-story brick building and cost $6,250.

Stehman's Church, Manor charge—Rev. G. W. Hess, pastor, is in process of erecting a beautiful parsonage alongside of the church; approximate cost of the parsonage, aside of the lot, one-half acre of ground donated by E. O. Sneath, a member of the church, is $7,000.

Ruhl's Church, Manheim charge—Rev. A. L. Haeseler, pastor, was completely renovated and is now a beautiful modern church. The change consisted of a heating plant, electric lights, oak pews, carpet, interior decorations and exterior painting; total cost, $2,100.

The conference superintendent preached the sermon on reopening day, November 12, when all of the indebtedness was procured.

Enders charge—Rev. Wm. Krick, pastor, made considerable improvements to their parsonage as follows: Painting and decoration of the interior; painting of the exterior and a new heating plant; total cost, $900.

Palmyra First—Rev. E. O. Burtner, pastor, made considerable improvements to their pipe organ at a cost of $7,000. Said organ was dedicated Sunday, October 29, by the conference superintendent.

Mt. Joy—Rev. H. S. Kiefer, pastor, has in process of construction a new, modern church edifice, the approximate cost being $60,000; the corner-stone was laid by the conference superintendent, Sunday afternoon, July 1.

This church will be dedicated early in the year of 1924.

Philadelphia First—Rev. C. Y. Ulrich, pastor, installed a beautiful Moller pipe organ on Easter at a cost of $2,800.

Coatesville—Rev. Parke Kurtz, pastor, purchased a beautiful and modern house for a parsonage, cost, $5,500.

Financial—Numerical—and Devotional Status.

1. Financially—The financial status of the conference is good, the people give liberally and systematically unto the Lord. I am sorry to say that the budget is not quite full, however, I believe the pastors properly presented the cause to the people, and while a number will report in full others will be short, this is especially true in the rural districts, farmers are not squaring even at present and therefore do not contribute as liberally as heretofore.

Counting the total for all purposes the conference has paid on the average of about $30.00 for every member, man, woman and child in the church.

Considering all things this is not a bad average.

The demands in many respects are excessive and except there will be some eliminations and perchance amputations and proper adjustments some of the major causes must suffer.

The following are some of the amounts contributed:

United Brethren Orphanage, Quincy, Pa., $11,384; pastors' salary in cash, aside from parsonage, $136,121.49; pastors' salary, increase over last year, $4,896.54; general benevolences, $76,100.00; Women's Missionary Association, $33,808.83. The offering for Armenian or Near East Relief, $6,962.78.

2. Numerically, 28 appointments report no accessions. Number of members received into the churches, 1,700; number of members lost, 1,506; net gain, 194; total enrollment in the Sunday schools, 39,252; average attendance in Sunday schools, 191.59.

3. Devotionally—The spiritual or devotional status of the conference is good. Revivals were conducted in almost all of the churches with fair results. Pastors exchanged pulpits and thus helped each other during the evangelistic efforts. This plan is heartily approved by the churches and is preferable to the securing of strangers who know very little and in many respects nothing relative to our church polity and who are often more injury than good.

We have a number of excellent men who are willing to assist in the evangelistic efforts and who as a rule are a decided success. Our prayer is for a revival of the old time family altar, and family pew, and family attendance of worship, as well as the ingathering of the unsaved into the church. We need a revival of personal work, to SEEK the lost and point them to the Lamb of God.

Devotion, sincere worship, self-sacrifice, Christ mindedness are the indispensable want and intercession of the Christian Church.

Conventions—Campmeetings and Bishop's Counsel with Men.

The branch convention of the Women's Missionary Association convened at Lebanon Salem church, May 1-3, and was pronounced as one of the best conventions spiritually, devotionally and financially. The offerings for the year climaxed all preceding years by $4,217.44; total offering for the year, $33,808.83. The addresses were inspirational and portrayed the work in such a manner that all present received a clearer vision of the great need of Foreign Missions.

The conference branch convention of Christian Endeavor Society met at Steelton June 19-21. The convention was largely attended. The addresses were exceedingly helpful. A definite program for the development of the local societies was launched. We trust the many delegates returned to their respective homes and societies with sufficient inspiration to stimulate more zeal and create among the young people a deeper interest in the church for the building up of the work as well as the ingathering of the young people into the societies and faithful attendance of the regular services, than heretofore.

Mt. Lebanon, Lykens Valley and Stoverdale campmeetings were largely attended. A profound spiritual atmosphere prevailed. The preaching was of the best, souls were being saved and we believe seed sown that in time must yield its fruitage.

The Mt. Gretna Campmeeting and Bible Conference was largely attended and the program pronounced by many as one of the best. This has become quite a center for Bible study. The best speakers available are procured for the occasion and ministers who possibly can should avail themselves of this opportunity.

The associated men's counsel, called by Bishop Wm. M. Bell, D.D., had three meetings during the conference year. They effected a permanent organization. The purpose of these meetings is to boost the program of the church, to stimulate lay activities as well as to impel loyalty and intelligence relative to the activities of the church and her glorious future.

Lebanon Valley College.

We have great reasons to rejoice in the enterprising achievements of Lebanon Valley College. Her halls are filled to overflowing with students. The study of the Bible, as the Book, is not only encouraged but is one of the potent requirements and must be persued by every student. It is expedient that men who think of following the Gospel ministry should take a full course of study in Lebanon Valley College. The demand for trained and educated ministers in this day of enlightenment by means of correspondence schools, night schools and high schools, etc., is exceedingly urgent.

Great credit is due to Dr. Geo. D. Gossard the wide awake president who prevailed upon the Rockefeller Board to contribute $8,000; a year for two years toward the better payment of the faculty; and it was through his unabated and prayerful efforts that the Rockefeller Board presented a challenge to the constituency of Lebanon Valley College never heard of in the history of the institution before, that of paying $175,000; on conditions that the members and friends of East Pennsylvania and Pennsylvania conferences will pay twice the amount offered, including the present indebtedness.

The challenge of $175,000 must be met and taken advantage of. This is a unique opportunity knocking at the door asking for admission to enter; if refused, may never come again, which would prove disastrous to the institution; in fact it would be a calamity if the supporting conferences should feel cold to this gracious proposition.

When the opportunity affords we trust all will fall in line and will heartily cooperate to meet this unheard of challenge and thus enlarge the endowment to such an extent that the permanency and financial status of Lebanon Valley College shall not only compete with similar institutions of other denominations, but will give the Church of the United Brethren in Christ the assurance of a perpetual college founded financially upon a solid rock.

Recommendations.

1. We would recommend that cash offerings only be taken in the churches for any project aside from that pertaining to the interests, institutions and departments relative to our denomination.

2. That the minimum salary be $1,200 and home, to ordained ministers who serve regular charges, on the following conditions:

(a) The pastor must live on the charge, and must devote all of his time to the charge.

(b) The salary on the charge must be paid in full.

(c) That a personal canvass and special effort be made to solicit the conference assessments.

3. That the Conference Home Missionary and Church Extension Society constitute the Board of Trustees for the Conference Superintendent's parsonage.

4. That this conference recommends Dr. S. E. Rupp and Rev. C. R. Longenecker to the Board of Evangelism as qualified men of excellent character and adaptability for the special work of evangelism.

Conclusion.

I count it a great privilege to stand before you today as a humble minister of the Gospel.

The work throughout the year was exceedingly strenuous, demands are multiplying, the tasks are arduous and complicated. However, I count it a great blessing to be called of God to preach the Gospel, to be privileged to lead so great a conference of loyal and consecrated ministers and faithful, devoted laity.

Thank God, we are moving forward, spiritually, financially and numerically.

With the exception of my sickness I preached almost every Sunday two and three times; I conducted most of the quarterly conferences and paid special attention to the weaker points.

I traveled on railroad, 10,568 miles; on trolley 1,463 miles; in automobile, 3,559 miles; a total of 15,590 miles. I sent out 1,409 letters and cards.

For reasons over which I had no control I was incapacitated for almost three months, five weeks of which I spent in Johns Hopkins Hospital.

If I had a thousand tongues I could not begin to express my gratitude to the members of this conference as well as to those of other conferences for their fervent and effectual prayers in my behalf as well as for the beautiful flows sent in the name of East Pennsylvania and Pennsylvania Conferences.

I am happy to report that I am stronger physically and more devoted spiritually because of this operation, and am more capable to fulfill my calling and to perform the tasks exacted from me by the church than for some years past.

I want to be a worker for the Lord. I love the work and thank God he called me into the service to be a co-worker with Jesus in the construction of His Church purchased by His own blood.

During my sickness the brethren stood nobly by their work, and throughout the entire year zealously cooperated with the accomplishments of the superintendent.

I am sincerely thankful to my brethren in the ministry for their hearty cooperation, their generous assistance, their wise counsel, earnest prayers and generous hospitality.

My prayer is, that God may grant prosperity to every church in the conference, that He may crown the efforts effected by his servants with unabated success, so that the Church of the United Brethren in Christ may grow, that souls may be added to the church daily.

That the money which rightfully belongs unto the Lord shall not be withheld, but that every department of the church as well as every church organization, whether at home or abroad, shall have sufficient of the oil of gladness to become a lighthouse, shining brightly over the ocean of life to direct the mariner and wanderer to avoid the rocks and shoals and enter safe into the harbor of eternal peace and joy safe on the ever green shore.

Respectfully submitted,

S. C. ENCK.

REPORT No. 2.

CONFERENCE MISSIONARY AND CHURCH EXTENSION SOCIETY REPORT.

To the Bishop and the Members of the East Pennsylvania Annual Conference Assembled, Greeting.

DEAR BRETHREN:—It has fallen to my duty to finish the work of one who was chosen a year since to make a report to this body, as to the achievements and advancements of our respective Conference missions. The Secretary for a quarter of a century or more, Brother Thomas G. Spangler ceased his labors on December 30, 1922, in the church militant and entered upon his ministry in the Church triumphant radiant with the glory of Christ.

At a called meeting of the Board in the Salem church, Lebanon, January 3, 1923, your reader was elected to wear the secretarial mantle until this session of Conference, when by your choice and judgment a successor to the departed shall be elected. How true is the proverb, "The workmen die but the work goes on."

There are six missions receiving appropriations: Allentown Sixth Street, Coatesville, Lebanon-Hebron, Philadelphia Third, Pottstown and Tremont. For the ensuing year two brand new missions are to be included, Harrisburg Twenty-ninth Street and Colonial Acres (East Harrisburg). Under the challenging and sagacious fostering and supervision of the Derry Street Church, a new church building is now in course of erection at Twenty-ninth and Derry Streets, upon a lot costing $8,000.00. This building will be sufficiently large and commodious to serve a church membership of 500 and a Sunday school of at least 800. It is built of tapestry brick and stone laid in brown mortar at a cost of $30,000.00. The dimensions are 40 by 60 feet with an addition of 24 by 36 feet. There is a gallery in the main auditorium, and a basement under the entire building modernly equipped. There will be a charter membership of from 35 to 50, a handsome nucleus to go forth in church work with rapid strides to permanent achievement; and with such a queenly mother to give her devoted and consistent fostering care, success is fully assured.

The service of the laying of the corner-stone of this new church edifice was held August 29, 1923 in the afternoon under the direction of the pastor, the Rev. Dr. J. A. Lyter, Colonial Acres (East Harrisburg) is a very auspicious opening, our denomination being in on the ground floor for definite church operations. The conviction matured early after the purchase of the lot, that a class should be organized and a church edifice built. In keeping with this judgment a suitable resolution is to be presented granting permission to build said church.

The rural church problem is rather grave. Shall our rural churches be retained and made effective? or shall we let them die out? So long as people live in the country, and so many are sinners, the rural church must be as efficacious and efficient as anywhere. In order to do this, however, the stronger must bear the infirmities of the weak. The conference must aid a bit financially here and there, that pastors may have sufficient support while recovering these churches. They also need moral support. It is therefore the mind of the Board to aid certain of these rural churches as subsequent reports will disclose.

The Extension Board obeyed the instructions of the Conference with reference to a Superintendent's Parsonage. It is located in Harrisburg on the corner of Sixteenth and Primrose Streets, in a very desirable residential section, one square north of State Street, and a good hearty throw of a stone from the Bishop's home. So far as the Board knows all agree it to be a fine location. The parsonage is built of brick, two story, with a finely adapted Superintendent's office and all other rooms to match. A fine double garage is built to the rear. Also suitable fire-proof Conference archive receptacle is being built in, so that all the valuable historical, ecclesiastical, and official records may be secured properly for future reference. One might describe for an hour about a house which makes the superintendent "all smiles," but "nuf sed." Make a pilgrimage between sessions and see for yourself. As to cost, study the Treasurer's report.

The Conference missions have had a splendid year. The pastors worked faithfully, preaching regularly and doing much pastoral visitation. The Sunday school enrollments are handsomely in advance of the church membership, and a splendid enlistment of the young people in the C. E. Societies. All this omens for much of an ingathering into the membership of the church in the immediate years ahead. While there were not as many accessions as may be desired, proportionately, however, these our co-workers did as good as the rest of us, if not better. It will not be long until these missions will be self-supporting. Allentown Sixth will go to self-support this ensuing year. These missions have been reducing their debts, and looking well in other respects after their substantial and material interests. Hebron paid on debt, $1200.00 and Schaefferstown, $500.00; Tremont, $625.00 on parsonage debt in full with $200 in the treasury; Allentown Sixth, $1600.00 on parsonage; Coatesville purchased a parsonage for $5500.00 and will pay $1100.00 toward the payment of the same October 15, 1923.

As a Conference we must not be unmindful of the many openings for the starting of new missions. These openings are entered by this board when an enthusiastic pastor or congregation has the faith, the devotion and purpose to possess the land at the instigation of the Board. In other words, to plant new churches in a city, town, or rural community, where our church is already located, those close at hand should be eager for a substantial and personal attachment to the work under the auspices of the counsels and administration of this Board. Therefore, why should not all of us be keenly alive to a sane and aggressive Conference Missionary and Church Extension Society advancement? Only in an entirely new city or community should this Board preclude to start missions in the name of the Conference as a whole.

We, as a Board, are indebted much to the brethren of the Conference, and to the laity here and there as well, for their fine cooperation in the realization of the tasks committed to our care. We thank you also for confidence imposed; and in turn we strove with diligence to do our work efficiently and well.

Respectfully submitted,

I. M. HERSHEY, Secretary.

REPORT No. 3.

HOME MISSION REPORT.

The work of establishing the Kingdom of God on earth must go on. But the building of the Kingdom requires organization. The church furnishes the organization. Thus the church must flourish and grow so that the Kingdom may be established. No church can grow and increase through work in the foreign fields unless the home base be enlarged in order to carry on the work in the lands across the seas. Thus Home Missions is the main artery of the church for denominational life and extension, and is the basis for the enlargement and growth of the church. Hence Home Missions must receive first consideration. The increasing tasks of Home Missions is evidence of this fact.

For many years our Home Missionary Society devoted its attention to Conference Extension work only. Now there are four departments of work: Conference Extension; Spanish-American; Standard Plan City Work; Rural Development. In every department of the work possible, the Standard Plan is being used, thus increasing the possibilities for efficient work and outstanding results.

A large part of the work is still Conference Extension Work. But, according to our General Secretary, under the present program of the General Board of Administration, Home Missions will not be able to continue the present support of Conference work. This condition, if not remedied, will spell ruin for the Home Mission Conferences, while some of the stronger Conferences may suffer to the point of retrenchment. Unless finances improve by another year, appropriations will have to be reduced from ten to fifteen thousand dollars, which will be taken from the stronger Conferences.

Possibly the greatest need in our Home Mission work is that of buildings and equipment. Half of our Mission charges are practically at a standstill because of inadequate or no equipment with which to do the work. There is one remedy for this situation and that is greater support from Church Election.

The Benevolence Budget of a Million dollars gave to Home Missions the quota of $95,000. The past ten months of the Conference year just closing, show that Home Missions will not receive over 45% of its quota, as some months the receipts fell as low as 25%. The appropriation and overhead expense of the past year will be an even $100,000. The expenses will be from $30,000 to $40,000 more than the combined receipts. This will mean a reduction of at least $10,000 in appropriations for the coming year, and unless the church more nearly meets the budget this coming year, the reduction will be greater one year hence. It is proper that the Conference should know these facts as given by our General Secretary.

Home Missions need to advance. They dare not stand still, neither dare we as a church retrench. The opportunities far exceed our ability to utilize them. The calls for help are far too numerous for us to answer all of them. Shall we sit idly by and allow all opportunities and calls for help to pass by unheeded? Men and women must be saved, cities must be won for Christ, the country districts must have churches. Shall we not pledge ourselves to increased efforts for Home Missions?

Thus, we as a Conference recommend:

1. The enthusiastic endorsement of the work of our Home Missionary Secretary, Doctor Camp, and his plans for the future. We rejoice in the Standardization Plans and resolve to lend our assistance and cooperation in the carrying out of these plans.

2. Realizing the necessity of educational work in bringing before our people the great causes of the church, that we use the month of November as an educational period for Home Missions.

3. That Mission Study classes be organized, at least one in each church, and that an effort be made to enroll every member in these classes to study the book recommended, namely, "The Child and America's Future."

4. That Sunday, November 25th, shall be Home Missionary Day, and that through sermons and special programs the people may hear more clearly God's call for a more aggressive program for the saving of America.

5. That we endorse the reading contest in the C. E. Societies during November, and that we urge our young people to read Home Mission books during this period.

6. That we pray without ceasing for the workers in the field and for our General Secretary and staff, that the work of winning America for Christ may ever go forward.

Respectfully submitted,

PAUL FRIDINGER,
G. W. HESS,
L. R. WALTERS,
Committee.

REPORT No. 4. REPORT ON FOREIGN MISSIONS.

Once again we are charged with a two-fold task-giving account for past stewardship, and facing anew the mighty challenges which come to us out of the midnight of heathendom; out of our own sense of duty and from God's will concerning us as revealed in Holy Writ and exemplified in the life of Christ Jesus our Lord.

We are glad to report the large response to the call for Life Work Recruits, and yet it is not an unmixed joy. Indeed, the unusual has happened, in that there are more people willing to go than the Board is able to send, owing to a lack of funds. Already two have gone to China under appointments of the Presbyterian Board and one of the Methodist Board. It is a tragedy, both for the youth and for the Church, when the flame of consecration and devotion is to be retarded, possibly extinguished, by lack of opportunity. It is doubly tragic, if there be no reasonable excuse for such a condition. If these young people are willing to sacrifice the advantages and comforts of the homeland, it seems but fair that the church should do the easier thing in furnishing the money.

The receipts of the Foreign Missionary Society through the General Benevolences for the year ending March 31, 1923, amounted to $97,048.58. This is $34,008.94 less than the total amount received for the year ending March 31, 1922: These are not pleasant facts to contemplate, but ye shall know the truth and the truth shall arouse to action. It may be the figures for 1922 are unusually high or those for 1923 unusually low for some special reason, but whatever the cause of the decrease it calls for careful and prayerful consideration.

The needs abound. July 1st the Foreign Missionary Board faced a deficit of $116,145.45, due to decreased receipts on the one hand and increased costs of promoting the work on the other. The rate of expansion during the last three years shows an increase of five Missionaries and thirty-five Native Workers. Surely, this is not an unreasonable rate of expansion, in face of the urgent needs. In buildings and equipment the demand far exceeds the supply.

However, while the needs are so many and pressing, we also have cause for genuine encouragement. There are now 77 foreign missionaries, an increase of one since our last annual report; 222 native workers, an increase of 11; 122 organized churches, an increase of 7; 9,479 communicant members, an increase of 474. The Sunday school enrollment is 9,893. Dispensaries and hospitals number 12, as compared with 7 reported last year with 44,075 cases treated. The total value of property has increased, since the last report from $637,214 to $675,809.

We are profoundly grateful to Almighty God for these achievements, and standing at the threshold of a new conference year, we recognize in the needs here tabulated and the many others known only to an eye witness, the Macedonian cry of distress. They constitute a mighty challenge. No call to arms has ever pealed with clearer tone than that which today summons the followers of Christ to action. We yearn for ever-enlarging vision and deepening devotion for the performing of tasks Divinely assigned. The clear command of the Scripture is "Go and teach all Nations." The burning passion of Jesus' life was the Cross, with the bearing of its message and power to the remote edges of the universe. To this end he poured out both his tears and blood. The highest privilege coming to humankind is that of partnership with Jesus in the Redemptive Process. Therefore, in response to the call; with due regard to our own sense of duty; in obedience to the Divine command; with holy and submissive reverence to Jesus, we as a conference resolve:—

First: That we cheerfully accept the challenges to heroic endeavor in this part of the Master's Kingdom and with his aid will do with our might what our hands find to do.

Second: That we express our appreciation of the work of all connected with the Foreign Missionary Enterprise, especially those laboring at the front.

Third: That we sincerely appreciate the splendid work of the W. M. A. of the East Pennsylvania Conference and pledge to them anew our loyal support.

Fourth: That we will support the cause of Foreign Missions in the best possible manner with our prayers, our giving, our study and our preaching.

Respectfully submitted,

J. R. MAC DONALD,
P. B. KURTZ,
W. E. DEIBLER,

Committee.

REPORT No. 5.

REPORT ON CHRISTIAN STEWARDSHIP.

The true Christian life must be animated with the thought that a great statesman once said is the greatest thought that can occupy the mind of anyone; namely, "The thought of one's personal responsibility to God." The inspired apostle said that "We are stewards of the manifold grace of God," and this manifold grace of God includes the gifts of life, time, talents, material blessings and Gospel privileges and to the extent of our ability we are responsible to give the Gospel to the whole world. We are not our own but we are bought with the precious blood of Jesus Christ before whom we all must appear to give an account of the deeds done in the body.

The true Christian life must therefore mean more than simply going to Church and Sunday school and then yielding to sensual and worldly indulgences during the balance of the week. The true Christian is one who has come to the Lord Jesus Christ as a lost sinner and by a living faith in Him as his Savior has realized that he is his all sufficient deliverer from the guilt and power of sin and will confess Him as such upon all proper occasions and will own Him as his Lord and Master and seek to please Him in all things so that he need not be ashamed before Him in His coming kingdom.

With this conception of the Christian life, he will with David Livingstone place no value on anything except in its relationship to Christ's kingdom and anything in his possession he is willing to either use himself or give away just so that it may be used in the most efficient way to promote the work of Christ's kingdom.

How far short of this standard of Christian Stewardship must many of the professed followers of Christ fall when the fact stares us in the face that after nineteen hundred years since Christ gave the commission that His Gospel is to be preached in all the world, two out of every three of the human family have never yet heard the story of the Cross and statistics show that less than ten percent of the enrolled membership of our beloved Church have been willing to sign a tithing pledge. Whereas if all members had been willing to practice this minimum standard, instead of less than six million dollars being contributed for the promotion of all Church work, per year; over fourteen million dollars would have been paid.

It is a very serious crime to rob God, and refuse to yield to Him our full hearted devotion in the use of time, talents and material blessings for the promotion of the Gospel, and the glory of His name.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED:

First—That the Bible standard of Christian Stewardship is the only proper standard for anyone to adopt.

Second—That we pledge ourselves to give more attention and place to definite Biblical instruction on Christian Stewardship.

Third—That we are pleased to see from time to time the very helpful and impressive lessons on Christian Stewardship in the columns of our Church periodicals, and plead that such lessons may continue to appear with greater frequency and efficiency.

Fourth—That the principle of an honest day's labor for an honest day's wage, is just as essential to observe for six days of the week, as to devote the hours of the seventh day, or Sunday, to rest, worship and holy meditation.

Fifth—That we cheerfully pledge our hearty cooperation and support to all the general interests of the Church of the United Brethren in Christ, that will be conducted in full harmony with Bible teaching and the promotion of Christ's Kingdom.

Signed by Committee,

B. M. BRENEMAN,
WILLIAM BEACH,

REPORT No. 14.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON SOCIAL SERVICE AND REFORM.

It is unquestionably true that man's first duty is to "love the Lord his God with all his mind, soul and strength," and the second is like unto it—"he shall love his neighbor as himself." That mankind has learned neither of these duties perfectly is apparent from the godlessness of many on the one hand and from "man's inhumanity to man" on the other. Unfortunately for many it is impossible to live alone, or unto one's self for any great length of time, for God has ordained the law that "it is not good for man to be alone," and humanity can not escape the operation of that law; hence it becomes wisdom to master the task of living with one's fellows in such close intimacy and fellowship as well, and as comfortably and as helpfully as possible. This immediately means the practice of self-denial, and the application of the Golden Rule, and sundry other precepts which the Holy Bible indicates as fundamental to all right living in all our relations with our fellows.

That these great fundamental laws of life are not always applied to all our relations with our fellows to any great extent is apparent from such facts as the following:

First—Every seven and two-tenth marriage in the United States ends in a divorce, and ends so most frequently from the most trivial causes. And yet there are many ministers who apparently gladly remarry those who so flippantly disregard their marriage vows, seemingly esteeming the marriage fee more highly than either the authority and explicit direction of the Word of God or the integrity and dignity of their sacred calling.

Second—Some of the so-called best people openly flout the eighteenth amendment to our Constitution and wink at its violation. They even seem to have the hardihood to threaten institutions and organizations and individuals that oppose their lawlessness and treachery; but they would be grievously offended if it were even so much as insinuated that they were not good loyal citizens. But in truth are they? Are they not in the class with all other evil-doers and law breakers?

Third—Labor and capital carry on their warfare without even so much as taking into account the public, which must practically always, in the very nature of the case, be the loser in their contests.

Fourth—When any business is permitted to exploit the public and filch from it such dividends as are listed in the Literary Digest issue of January 6, 1923, it must be apparent to all that life is only a mad scramble with many of which selfishness is the mainspring and a dollar the goal.

Fifth—When big business is permitted rights and privileges that are denied to individuals or those of lesser standing and influence, as for instance the coal mining companies that are permitted to drain the water pumped from the mines, so laden with impurities that it destroys every living thing it touches, and a large amount of culm from the washeries and refuse banks which has overspread hundreds of acres of the finest meadow land in our state and render them absolutely useless, into the streams of our commonwealth until many of them are as black as the river Styx and resemble Higgins' Eternal Black Ink rather than God's pure crystal water; while an ordinary individual is not permitted to locate anything near a stream that might in any manner whatever defile it under penalty of the law, it is apparent that there are those who are specially favored and privileged in our land of boasted equal privileges.

The exploitation of Child Labor; infidelity to public trust in the interest of party politics or maybe even worse; the problems in municipal government which issue in misgovernment and injustice and bring reproach to law and authority; the red-light districts in every large city, that juggernaut thousands of innocent young girls annually and render men so diseased and foul as to become unfit for the high and holy place of husband and father and a serious menace to society; with many other injustices and inequalities indicate clearly that humanity has not yet learned to live on neighborly terms of love and service with itself.

On the other hand there are many things to indicate that progress is being made. In business we have the shorter hours of labor, the comforts and conveniences for the employees, the many welfare agencies for the amelioration of poverty and suffering, profit sharing, Industrial Democracy (under which our own Publishing House operates), a closer relationship between employer and employes, and many other conditions and signs that bode well for the future.

There come also to our mind such activities as The World Program for Boys initiated at Portsach, Austria last year under the auspices of the International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association, The Religious Education Movement in the Public Schools or as part of the Public School training, The Travelers' Aid Society, The Anti-Saloon League, The Woman's Christian Temperance Union, The Red Cross Society, The American Bible Society, the growing strength of arbitration in the settlement of all manner of disputes, a growing sense of citizenship as a social and civic duty with its consequent independence of party lines in politics which compels a better and fairer administration of public trusts and offices, a growing moral sense of the American people, the interest in the Americanization of our foreign population, and numerous other uplifting and helpful tendencies which I neither remember nor know, cause one to rejoice that some progress at least is being made in the art of living, and inspire a surer hope for the days to come.

Now in all these great world movements the Church finds itself, in this anomalous position: on the one hand it is criticised because it is too active in attempting to ameliorate the living conditions in this world; and on the other that it is not interested in what concerns the men of today. One of its recent critics said, "The Church is talking about sin and men are talking about food, the Church is bothering itself about higher living and men are bothering themselves about higher wages, the Church is preaching about heaven and men are thinking about more leisure in this world." To be sure this contrast is not real. The truth is, the Church is increasingly interested in all the things that men are concerned about. The serious thing is that the interests of the Church are so much broader than men are willing to take into account. Better housing is an interest which the Church has in common with the man of today, but preparation for an eternal home which can only be obtained in this world and of which one of the first steps is right living, here and now is its higher concern. Higher wages are always a matter of concern to the Church but the higher life which can be lived on high or low wages is more vital both to the Church and the man, and that interest the Church alone carries.

Some of the disgruntled complain, too, that capital owns the churches. Whatever we may think of Harry Emerson Fosdick, either personally or of his theology, he has done the Church a great service by declaring the charge nonsense in the Locomotive Engineers' Journal. He says that the church membership is about forty-seven millions, and that you can hardly get a more comprehensive membership than that. Instead of being dominated by a small group of the wealthy, he says, "The churches of America are pretty much what those forty-seven millions are—as wise and as foolish, as broad and as narrow, as progressive and as reactionary. Moreover these churches are for the most part democratically governed, some by direct democracy, like the Baptists and Congregationalists, where every individual congregation is absolutely self-determined, and some by representative democracy, as for example, the Presbyterians. The churches of America are what the people make them. A majority vote is conclusive in one way or another in nearly all of them. And while men with money doubtless have a disproportionate influence in the democratic church just as they do in a democratic state, this situation is no peculiarity of the churches, separating them from any other social groups whatever, nor does it mean that in the long run money can win out against folks. A good many churches are really more democratic than many people suppose. In the two parishes where I have worked I have had both employers and employes. For years, in my first parish, you could not get into the church on Sunday morning without being greeted at the door by the business agent of the Carpenters' Union."

With this imperfect survey before us, and remembering that nothing human is or can be perfect, let us with the prophet of old take courage in this, that the conditions which are for us are more than those that be against us, and that the omnipotent God yet lives and reigns and in His own good time will cast that which is evil into the fire to be burned, and will try the good so as by fire that it may become the purer and the more glorious. Then will come the Utopia for which all ages have yearned and prayed. Meanwhile, may it be our business as the representatives of the eternal God in the earth to make it the best world possible by supporting all the agencies that make the world better and life happier; so shall some of the burdens of the curse of sin be lifted from humanity, men's lives will be happier, and God will be the more greatly honored.

REPORT ON CHURCH ERECTION.

The importance of the interests of the Church Erection Society of our denomination has been emphasized before this body for many years. Its claims have never been so strongly urged upon us by those at its head, or their representatives as now, and in response thereto this Conference has always pledged its earnest sympathy and support. We heartily believe in its mission, as one of the great factors in extending and establishing the Master's Kingdom. It has accomplished wonders, even with the limited funds in hand, in helping to erect churches and parsonages, at points and centers of population, where now great and good work is being accomplished for God and humanity. The community that needs a messenger of God to announce the saving message to unsaved men and women, also needs a Church house into which believers may be gathered, for no Congregation can thrive long, and do the Lord's work effectively, without a suitable place in which to meet for instruction and Christian fellowship and worship. Church Erection must go hand in hand with the work of Evangelization. In proportion as the Church becomes enlisted in this great interest, will she be enabled to enter the larger town and cities of our Country, and thus be enabled effectively to build up strong and permanent home centers; and a Church firmly established and strong in the home field will mean greater efficiency and success in the work of a world-wide proclamation of salvation.

In view of the great importance and need of this interest, be it

Resolved 1—That we as pastors and laymen declare our unfailing fidelity to the cause of Church Erection.

Resolved II—That we regard with pleasure the growing interest in and the success of Church Erection in the United Brethren Church.

Resolved III—That we appreciate the splendid work of our General Secretary, and pledge him our loyalty and support in his great effort to carry out the instructions of the General Conference in the interest of Church Erection.

Respectfully submitted,

H. M. MILLER.

REPORT ON PUBLISHING INTERESTS.

This report embraces the product of the Otterbein Press—Our Printing Establishment at Dayton, Ohio, and the relation we contemplate to sustain to it. From its fruitful ministry we receive the weekly "Telescope" and "Watchword," the monthly "Bible Teacher" and the "Evangel," the quarterly Bible School literature, and the exceeding many pamphlets, which are calculated to keep the Church informed, and in such organized unity of endeavor as will assure the largest and finest results.

It is fitting, therefore, that we declare our indebtedness to this greatest of denominational publicity mediums, and plan for its further development. Neither will it be amiss if we give our unanimous approval to that phase of its development, which a General Conference of-the-long-ago inaugurated when it was ordered that the Publishing Plant should be so enlarged and managed, that its profits might become large enough to adequately support those of our pastors who, because of old age, or other incapacities, have become dependents, and have reached the period of retirement.

The latest advancement at Fourth and Main Streets, contemplates the final step in this direction, and it is practically safe to predict that the completion of the building will speedily realize the long-looked-for goal.

Therefore, Be It Resolved:

First—That we commend the labors, and approve the management of our agent, the Rev. W. R. Funk, and pledge him our support

Second—That we express our appreciation of the work of our Editors.

Third—That we reaffirm hereby our untiring efforts to increase the circulation of our denominational literature, and confess that we can buy books to a fine advantage when we buy from the U. B. Book Department.

REPORT ON THE CHRISTIAN HOME.

The home is the oldest divine institution in the world. The word home touches every fibre of the soul, and strikes every chord of the human heart with its angelic fingers, and nothing but death can break its spell. What tender associations are linked with home: it calls up the fondest memories of life, and opens in our nature the purest and deepest, and richest fount of consecrated thought and feeling. Good homes are the hope of the world. Everything that is good in the Church or in society is first planted, shielded and nurtured in good homes. The permanence of our homes depends upon enshrining God in our family life. It depends upon the old fashioned family altar. It depends upon the recognition of the principle that the family is not a creation formed by mutual desire, not even an institution founded by the state, but dates back to Eden,—an institution of Divine origin. Since the home occupies a position of such vast importance in God's divine economy, it is our indispensable duty, that we do everything possible to foster the highest ideals and promote the best interests of the home, and in so doing, we will also be helping the interests of Church and State.

On this subject let me call your attention to the clause in our Book of Discipline page 69—"Because of the powerful and far-reaching influence of home life upon the young, it shall be the duty of each pastor to direct the attention of his people to the vital importance of family government and Christian nurture. He shall do this publicly, and privately by directing attention to books and periodicals, giving helpful instruction upon the subject, and also by presenting in his public ministrations the teaching of God's Word, respecting the duty of parents to train up their children in the nurture and admonition of the Lord."

Resolved—That we encourage the family altar and family worship in all our homes.

Respectfully submitted,

H. M. MILLER.

REPORT No. 18.

BIBLE CAUSE.

The Bible is the Word of God. In it is revealed the divine plan of Salvation. It has been the greatest source of joy to all saints in all ages and nothing can take its place. It brings Christian enlightenment and satisfaction. It is still food to the hungry soul, purifies the heart and gives inspiration in heavenly things. "The statutes of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart. The commandment of the Lord is sure enlightening the eyes." "Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path." It brings hope and cheer and comfort in days of sunshine and storm and in the dying hour. It, only, contains the recipe for the cure of these so-called ills of our days and all of which are revealed in the Golden Rule.

The Word has withstood all the onslaughts upon it through all the ages and it will continue to do so. There need be no fear that it will not come through with victory in this age of criticism and false reasoning and extreme doctrine. It will always carry its own credentials and defense and remain the immutable Word of God.

Believing these things to be true we recommend:

1. That as pastors we continue to preach the Word in all purity and with all sincerity.

2. That we urge all our people not only to be constant readers but ardent devotional students of the Word.

3. That we are happy to know that it is still the greatest seller on the book market. That we continue to give our hearty endorsement to the wonderful work of the American Bible Society and kindred organizations.

4. That we continue to stand for the reading of the Bible in the public schools of our State and Nation.

REPORT No. 19.

REPORT OF TEMPERANCE.

After more than a century's agitation and legislation of a more or less restrictive character, and an effort to control the lawless traffic in intoxicating liquors by the license system, the people of the United States decided that the business must cease, and hence they passed by an overwhelming majority a resolution in the national Congress for a constitutional amendment that forever prohibits the manufacture, sale, transportation, importation and exportation of intoxicating liquors as a beverage. This Prohibition Amendment has been ratified by forty-six of the forty-eight states of the Union. This action was not taken behind the people's backs. It was accomplished while the people were looking on, and the "wets" contested every foot of the way in the path of progress. Thirty-four states were dry by popular vote or legislative action before the Congress passed their prohibition resolution by more than a two-thirds majority of both sides. The soldiers assisted in electing the Congress that passed the resolution before they went overseas to fight for the freedom of the world. The brewers, distillers, and saloonkeepers remained at home to do all they could to aid their German allies and defeat their own government under which they lived and prospered. But the emancipation proclamation from the slavery of this business was signed by the votes of the people and the traffic in intoxicants in the United States of America has been forever doomed.

The question is no longer, shall we have prohibition, but rather shall we respect the Constitution and shall the law be enforced? Of course the Personal Liberty Leagues of all kinds, such as Wife Beaters Local, The Horse Thieves Union, The Light Wine and Beer Apostles, and The Bootleggers and Rum Runners Society would say "repeal all law and crime will cease. But so long as there are constitutions and laws, we must disregard them and make nullification honorable." Many people who belong to the personal liberty class are folks who have social standing, wealth and education, but they do not qualify as good citizens. In fact, their education, wealth and social standing make them the more dangerous citizens because of their influence.

The late and greatly loved President Harding in his law enforcement address, delivered at Denver on June 25, 1923, uttered a remarkably significant truth when he said: "I do not see how any citizen who cherishes the protection of law in organized society may feel himself secure when he himself is the example of contempt for law. Clearly there is a call for an awakened conscience and awakened realization of true self-interest on the part of the few who will themselves suffer most when reverence for law is forgotten and passion is expressed in destructive lawlessness. Ours must be a law-abiding republic, and reverence and obedience must spring from the influential and the leaders among men, as well as from humbler citizens, else the temple will collapse." Shall the temple collapse? We as good citizens answer "no." The Constitution and the law must be respected. The law must be enforced.

How can we best secure these results? By being good citizens, by registering and voting for dry candidates at all primary and general elections. Every office in some way touches this question. A school director may influence wrongly the teaching in the public schools. A judge of lax views may encourage the law violator by light fines or short term imprisonments. We must give every assistance to the law enforcement officers. We must help to create sentiment in favor of law observance. We must help to put the padlock on every illegal brewery, distillery and liquor selling place. Above all, we must not fail to continue our moral and financial support to that movement that was the chief agency in the nation in securing the Prohibition Amendment, the Anti-Saloon League. This organization, through the agency of the church, is chiefly responsible for our prohibition progress. Therefore be it resolved:

1. That we heartily and strongly continue our support of the Anti-Saloon League of Pennsylvania, and its leadership in this great reform.

2. That we continue to open our churches to the League's representatives the coming year.

3. That we express our high appreciation of Dr. Homer W. Tope, our State Superintendent, who has so wisely and effectively led our forces in recent years.

4. That we support only dry candidates for offices at the polls.

5. That we heartily commend our new President, Calvin Coolidge, for his strong position on law enforcement, and assure him of our support and prayers.

REPORT No. 20.

REPORT ON EDUCATION.

The problem of education is challenging the attention of the Christian Church as never before. No reasonable person disputes the value of an education; and the demand for men who are developed in body, trained in mind and cultured in soul is recognized on every hand. We affirm and re-affirm our belief in education as a means of increasing power and efficiency. The influence of education upon vital Christianity is very evident.

However, the Church is face to face with a most serious problem. Shall the education received by our youth be Christian or Anti-Christian? This is the issue. The introduction of German radicalism has started a movement which is leading to the secularizing and de-Christianizing of religious institutions, which are the product of the consecrated spirit and self-sacrificing benevolence of the Church, the pioneer in the work of higher education.

The Church has a very definite commission. "Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and the Son, and the Holy Ghost; teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world" (Matt. 28:19, 20). The work of the Church is to propagate Christianity, but Christianity is Christ. It is as unique, singular and solitary as He is. He said, "I am the way, the truth, and the life, no man cometh unto the Father but by me." Christianity is a matter of life and death, and so there is a life-and-death difference between the "Christian" and the merely "religious" programs of education. The individual must accept the Christ of Christianity, and then will he have a new nature, and not until then can he be spiritually trained, spiritually built up and spiritually educated. True Christian education, therefore, either brings the individual in a life and love relationship with Christ, or builds him up in Christ, or both. The true goal, therefore, is, as someone has well said, "not culture merely, but a vital, continuous, and growing experience of the soul with the living God, in Christ Jesus, through the Holy Spirit."

What we want, then, is Protestant Christian education. And what we need, as one of our own number has well said in a former report to this body, is, "an education shot through with the efficient Gospel of the Son of God and the Savior of men. And as the logic of the day forces home these conclusions, we may turn with a new and intense devotion to the theme of Christian education and the Christian school in which the Christ of Calvary is held to be the supreme factor in civilization." The Church has a revelation, an inspired Bible, a crucified and risen Redeemer; these facts must be basic in her educational system.

Granting that the program of education for the Church should be in absolute harmony with the commission and the goal that God in His eternal counsels has prescribed for her, it becomes the duty of the Church of Jesus Christ to accept as never before her real educational task which is peculiarly her own, a prerogative not to be usurped by any outside agency, and earnestly endeavor through proper methods of training, due recognition of educational principles, the use of sound text-books, and adequate equipment, give her youth the very best Christian education possible.

To this end we especially pledge ourselves anew to the support of Lebanon Valley College and Bonebrake Theological Seminary, the two institutions in which we are especially interested; expecting that they in turn shall furnish the kind of spiritual and consecrated leaders that are needed to meet the challenges growing out of our denominational life as well as the life of the Church at large in this crisis hour.

REPORT No. 21.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT FOR CONFERENCE, SEPTEMBER, 1923.

DEAR BRETHREN:—

It is with pleasure that I present this my 12th annual report to the members of the East Pennsylvania Conference.

We stand today with grateful hearts at the end of a year that had its struggles and hardships but yet freighted with wonderful blessings from the hand of our Almighty God. How wonderfully He has led, what blessings He has brought! We are indeed grateful for his loving kindness, His tender mercies and His marvelous guidance through the year. The Christian College has a great opportunity in a country like ours. Happy indeed, should the students be whose privilege it is to drink at these fountains of truth to prepare themselves for service and usefulness. Great, too, are the opportunities of those who teach as they lead these young people in their search for truth, to Him who said, "I am the way, the truth and the life." These cooperating conferences, through their representatives and committees have the happy privilege of seeing their plans, methods and prayers put into action with abiding and gratifying results.

Lebanon Valley College was founded by the Church. Our fathers prayed, God gave them a vision, they put their prayers into action, the College grew. Thousands of students in these years have been enrolled and more than a thousand have graduated from its halls. They have gone out to bless the world and the church and are filling places of honor, trust, and responsibility in almost every state in the Union and many foreign nations. Our ministers preach righteousness and the school teaches righteousness to its students. These great institutions stand together in the training of the head, heart and body. The church school that does not take God into account has no right to exist. It should close its doors and turn over to more responsible people the education and training of young men and women.

Lebanon Valley is on the list of accredited colleges in this and neighboring States and its work is recognized everywhere. This is a distinct advantage to the College, to be thus recognized, and especially since it not only brings students, but enables them to enter all professional schools and post-graduate departments of Universities with full credit. There has been a fine spirit of loyalty and devotion on the part of faculty and students. Unless there be hearty cooperation the best results will never follow. The faculty and others about the school worked hard and the results in student growth and general development have been most gratifying. The salaries have always been too small but they have been growing rapidly during the last several years. Aside from our increased income from endowment, and increased student body, the gift of $8,000 annually for two years from the General Education Board (Rockefeller), has tremendously helped in giving our professors a living wage and also adding other well-trained men to the faculty. We have the best faculty now that we have ever had and our plan is to strengthen it and all our departments in every way in the coming of the years.

The campaign of 1918 had much to do with bringing about this condition. Unless help had come, either from this campaign or from some other source, the College, to my mind, would be no longer in existence. It required the hearty cooperation of all our members and friends to put across that campaign, but it paid in the saving of the College, in the developing of our church, in giving us a better idea of our ability to meet emergencies, and put across big propositions. It also showed us an abundance of resources, developed a great leadership and inspired us to launch other great enterprises for the College and the Church. The most of the criticisms against the College and its work could be answered in the past and can now be answered with one word of five letters M-O-N-E-Y. With the coming of the endowment, more money came for current expenses and scholarships. In this way the College has been able to pay its faculty and other employes living salaries, help many ministerial and missionary students and also help to a greater or less extent many others.

While we have the best faculty that we have ever had it is well to know that it costs us more than twice as much as it did ten years ago. However, it pays in the results which follow. The most hearty cooperation is evidenced in the grades and general development of the students. Dr. Lehman, after thirty-seven years of most earnest and faithful service, has discovered that he is not as strong as in former years and does not feel able to bear the burdens and carry the load necessary to be borne by a college professor doing full work. During last year he served as part time professor but during this year he will be able to do very little if any teaching. These years of toil have brought with them success and sorrow, but in the eyes of the students and faculty and his many friends, he will ever live as the clean-cut Christian character and the mighty man in mathematics.

Prof. Paul S. Wagner, after four years of faithful and efficient service on the faculty has been granted a leave of absence for a year or more to work for his Doctor of Philosophy degree in Columbia University.

Professor Hollinger, after a period of two years as physical director and coach, resigned at the end of the year.

Miss Seltzer, after a period of one year in the Department of German, asked to be relieved of her work.

Prof. Bruce H. Redditt, a graduate of Randolph Macon College with the Bachelors degree and within striking distance of the Doctor of Philosophy degree at Johns Hopkins, will teach in the Department of Mathematics.

Mrs. Ethel Bennett, who taught in the French Department last year will add to this work several courses in German this year.

Prof. E. E. Stauffer, A.M., D.D., of Lebanon, Pa., will teach part time in the Department of English.

The Voice Department in the Conservatory of Music will be greatly strengthened by the addition of Mrs. A. K. Mills as a teacher.

Prof. E. E. Mylin, A.M., a graduate of Franklin and Marshall College, has taken up the work of coach and physical director.

The new members of the faculty are starting their work well and will prove a great source of strength to the institution.

Last year the students numbered 289 in the college department, 111 in the Conservatory of Music, 41 in the Summer School, 113 in the Extension School and 12 in Oratory. The total enrollment in all departments was 566. After deducting names repeated in Music, Summer School, Extension School and Oratory, the net enrollment was 490. Because of the crowded conditions the Academy and Oratory Departments have been discontinued, but in spite of this, the enrollment this year will exceed that of last year. Our buildings are taxed beyond their capacities and some of our students are compelled to room out in town.

Finance and Endowment: The past year has been an exception in at least one respect. It is likely the only year in our history, at least in recent years, when the year closed without a shortage in funds. This point is worth noting.

For more than half a century the College struggled along with little or no endowment. No college can succeed well, however, without an adequate income. This income must come from Endowment, Student Fees, or special gifts. Statistics show that only thirty-nine percent of the cost of educating students is paid by students themselves. Therefore all institutions need endowment, since they must make up the remainder. How we managed in all the years is a mystery. We are grateful indeed to the ministers and the laity of the church for the part they took in the splendid campaign of 1918 for Endowment. Without the results of that campaign, or help from some other source, Lebanon Valley would surely have failed.

The amount of endowment now invested is $365,766.61 and the total income the past year was $17,253.11. The amount of money received from the General Benevolence Budget for eleven months of the past year was $7,400.00, but just after the beginning of the new year we received a check for $2,669.11.

General Educational Board: Two years ago the General Education Board came to our rescue by making a contribution of $8,000 a year for two years toward professors' salaries in the College. This was truly a godsend and made it possible for the College to pay something like living salaries. However, there was no special contribution promised from this great Board for this year to help on salaries. The Board of Trustees recently requested the General Education Board to continue its grant of $8,000 this year and also asked for a large contribution towards an endowment fund. On the 24th day of May its meeting was held in New York at which time it voted to make a contribution to Lebanon Valley College of $8,000 this year for teachers' salaries and to pay $4,000 of it on the first day of October, 1923, and $4,000 more on April 1, 1924. Realizing that our request was just and having a desire to help wide-awake colleges, the Board voted to grant us $175,000 towards additional endowment on the condition that the College would raise twice that amount or $350,000. This amount pledged by the Board becomes an obligation when the College has subscribed $350,000 and covers its debt. It will be paid in proportion as the College pays. Every time the College pays $2.00 the Board will pay $1.00 up to $175,000. Of course this is with the understanding that it shall be held sacred for endowment only. The money already paid to Lebanon Valley College plus the amount pledged by the Rockefeller Board amounts to $199,000. We are indeed deeply grateful to the Board for its magnificent gift. This amount pledged is the second largest single gift ever made by any individual or corporation to any cause, in the United Brethren Church, in all its history. When this amount is secured, and it surely will be, for our people have a mind to work, we will have an endowment fund of about $900,000.

It is our purpose to raise sufficient endowment to meet current expenses before we erect buildings. We need buildings, and we need them badly, but we need endowment more. When we have once secured the endowment it will be a comparatively easy thing to get buildings and equipment to meet the needs. The Executive Committee, of the coming endowment campaign, fixed the time of the beginning of the campaign as September 25, 1923, and the ending of the campaign as July 1, 1924. This pledge from the General Education Board ought to challenge, and will challenge the best blood in the United Brethren Church in the East. It will be a big proposition to meet it, it will be a hard proposition, but we are accustomed to doing big things and this can be handled just as easily as other big propositions in the past have been. It will require wise and sane leadership, it will require much prayer and the putting into action our prayers. We will need organization and the best of organization. The Board of Trustees has voted to use as far as possible the plan used in the 1917-1918 campaign. It ought to be done, it can be done, therefore it will be done and we are the people to do it. A great boost will be given to it surely at this conference. If the cooperating conferences can see their way clear to assume and cover the debt a great step toward ultimate success will have been taken. This campaign will need the help of all and the heartiest cooperation of all. Shall we have it? Let us plan our work and then work our plan. The election of J. Raymond Engle, Esq., as director, meets with universal approval.

Life Work Recruits: Many institutions and churches are spending efforts and money in developing Life York Recruits for the Kingdom. The United Brethren Church and Lebanon Valley College are not exceptions in this matter. The College and the Church must stand together in the training of these young people. About 2500 young people in our church have responded to the call and have said, "Here am I, send me." The Church and the College must assist in their training. Without some help, many of our best young folks who ought to go to College will never be able to go. With some help, however, a college course becomes a possibility. The church that meets this need will reap a rich harvest. The church that fails to do this will also fail when educated, trained and consecrated young people are needed for the ministry, missionary work and for leaders in the home communities. Lebanon Valley College has given this year $100.00 to each young man who was preparing for the ministry, on the condition that he preach eight years in the United Brethren Church. This is only fair to the student, the College and the Conference. The College believes in helping the conferences by helping train its young pastors and other religious leaders. We believe also that the church will help us much more when we do more of this sort of training. Last year the College gave ministerial scholarships to the extent of about $2600 and about $650.00 to the children of ministers. Money spent in this way will bring a hundred fold harvest. We earnestly solicit help for this cause from individuals and church organizations.

Cooperative Territory: We believe the entire East District should be the cooperating territory of Lebanon Valley College. Surely the territory in the United Brethren Church is not properly divided among its colleges. No wise statesman would ever make the dividing lines as they are now. I believe there is a rapidly growing sentiment in these conferences to cooperate with Lebanon Valley.

I am indeed grateful to the East Pennsylvania Conference, its ministry and laity for the manner in which they are standing by their college. May God bless them all and grant that their prayers may be answered in the building up and strengthening of both College and Conference.

G. D. GOSSARD, President.

REPORT No. 23.

REPORT ON CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR SOCIETY.

At no time in the history of the Church has there been a greater necessity for definite, organized and persistent effort on the part of our young people, than today.

The social, mental and spiritual problems are tremendous in their issue and demand the very highest and strongest manhood and womanhood in their solution.

It therefore behooves us as a Christian denomination and Conference to give ourselves to the training and development of our young people in order that they may prove the most valuable asset of Church activities.

The commercial and political interests of the world have learned this lesson long ago, but apparently it has dawned all too slowly upon the consciousness of the Church.

However we are glad to believe that a new day is here, and that one of the inspiring conditions is the increasing interest and activity of the young people in the religious and benevolent operations of the Church, due no doubt to the consecration and training which they have received and are receiving, in the devotional meetings and related social gatherings of this great world-wide movement.

We therefore as a Conference should be encouraged and whereas the Young People's Department has set forth certain aims and goals, we therefore submit the following resolutions.

First—That we heartily endorse and emphasize the three distinct aims of Christian Endeavor, viz.: 1st—Friends in Christ or a deepening of the devotional life. 2nd—Friends for Christ or a proper expression of that life. 3rd—Friends with Christ or the spirit of Evangelism.

Second—That we meet the Spiritual challenge which comes through prayer, for a reinterpretation of Christian Endeavor problems.

Third—That we give our best energies and thought to the organizing, directing and training of our young people in every local congregation.

Fourth—That we continue to recommend to our young people the reading and systematic study of the Bible, the practice and devotion of public and private prayer, as the best means of building Christian character.

Fifth—That we urge our young people to do real Christian service and avoid all the tendencies of present day amusements, such as degrade the soul and cause spiritual bankruptcy.

Sixth—That we do our utmost to organize Intermediate Societies in every Church, as this is the most critical period in the life of our boys and girls.

Seventh—That we greatly appreciate the splendid work of our General Secretary, Dr. O. T. Deever, and that we pledge ourselves to a loyalty and devotion such as we have never known before.

Respectfully submitted,

I. N. SELDOMRIDGE,

REPORT No. 25.

REPORT OF THE CIRCULATION MANAGER OF THE CONFERENCE HERALD.

Amount of money received for Conference Herald subscriptions, $502.10; cost of printing, $675.22. The highest number of subscriptions was received from Lancaster Covenant, with a total of 133. In view of the deficit in cost of printing and receipts we urge our Pastors to send in larger subscription lists.

As a channel for information we believe the Herald is most valuable and merits our support.

The Committee recommends that the deficit, should there be any in the coming year, shall be paid out of the contingent fund of the Conference.

REPORT No. 29.

COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS.

Resolved—That we make our Conference a “going institution,” and that we “carry on.”

One hundred and thirty years ago our Fathers organized within this territory a conference for mutual counsel and encouragement, as gospel preachers.

As organizers they advanced slowly, as builders they laid a secure foundation for the superstructure to be added by future generations. Hence many of our possessions we obtained by inheritance, and the ground work of many of our achievements was laid when we arrived on the scene.

Therefore, Resolved—That we pause for a moment and reverently pay our respects to the memory of the heroic pioneers, who blazed the way, laid the foundation and left us a priceless heritage.

That we “Study to show ourselves approved unto God, workmen that need not be ashamed,” emulating their spirit of self-sacrificing devotion, “carrying on,” proving ourselves worthy sons of Otterbein.

Resolved—That we express our pleasure and appreciation of the presence, and the inspiring addresses of the representatives of the various departments of our church activities. And that we hereby pledge our hearty support of all our general interests.

Resolved—That we hereby express our appreciation of our most worthy Bishop William M. Bell, D.D., LL. D., who has presided over the deliberations of our conference with matchless dignity, grace and patience. Always keenly alert, vigorous and inspiring, avoiding monotony and banishing dullness; giving life and cheer to all the proceedings, dispatching business with alacrity and exactness. We love our Bishop.

We congratulate the pastor, Rev. H. E. Schaeffer, and the members of the Penbrook church for their wisdom, faith and heroism manifested in the erection of this beautiful church edifice—a lasting memorial of their love and loyalty to their Master.

Resolved—That we give emphatic expression to our appreciation of the generous hospitality extended to this conference by Pastor Schaeffer and his people. It seems that every desire was anticipated, every comfort provided and every need supplied. Thank you.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) M. B. Spayd.
